Abstract

[Paste your abstract here. Most difficult and important component of report/seminar is to write abstract. Presented at the beginning of the report, it is likely the first subs tantive descriptionof your work read by an external examiner/reader. You should view it as an opportunity to set accurate expectations. The abstract is a summary of the wholeproject work.

It presents all the major elements of your work in a highly condensedform. An abstract often functions, together with the project title, as a stand-alonetext. An abstract is not merely an introduction in the sense of a preface, preamble, or advance organizer that prepares the reader for the report.

In addition to that function, it must be capable of substituting for the whole report when there is insufficient time and space for the full text.The fi nal version of the abstract will need to be written after you have finishedreading your report for the l ast time. However, if you think about what it has to contain, you realize that the abstract is really a summary of your project/seminar work.

Your abstract should answer specific questions: What was done? Why was it done?How was it done? What was found? What is the significance of th e findings?]
